Banking and Finance

The firm's highly experienced Banking and Finance team handles secured and unsecured lending, international high-value financing and refinancing transactions, including project financing, syndicated, subordinated and mezzanine financing, and related securities such as share pledges, floating charges, financial collateral and other securities.

The firm regularly advises on compliance and banking regulatory and licensing requirements; ISDA agreements and related products; asset preservation and security enforcement and procedures.

Two of the firm's main team members, Marios Hadjigavriel and Christiana Vassiliou were both heads of in-house legal teams at international banks based in Cyprus and bring the wealth of their experience to their department making our banking team one of the strongest in the country.

The firm's litigation team supports the banking team by dealing with debt collection and security enforcement, representing in this respect both local and international banking institutions.

The firm's main client base consists of high profile international lenders, arrangers and facility agents (on single-lender and syndicated, secured and unsecured loans) as well as borrowers, guarantors and security providers. Our clients include international financial institutions such as EBRD, IFC, VTB Group, Deutsche Bank and Credit Suisse as well as local banking institutions, such as the Bank of Cyprus and Piraeus Bank.

Key Practice Areas

Recent examples of our experience:

- The firm's IPO team advised Qiwi plc in a USD213,000,000 offering on NASDAQ. The company issued 12.5 million American depositary shares and granted the underwriters of the sale options on 1.875 million securities. Qiwi, based in Nicosia, Cyprus is a leading provider of next generation payment services in Russia and the CIS. Following the successful completion of the IPO, we recently advised Qiwi plc further on its primary and secondary offerings noting that the transaction involved many new aspects of Cyprus law arising from the local IPO law that have been untested in court.
- In May 2015, ATS acted again for the Ukrainian based DTEK group of companies (DTEK) and for two Cypriot companies belonging to the group, with respect to the financial restructuring of its outstanding USD 200 million 9.5% senior notes which took place through an exchange offer, consent solicitation and an English scheme of arrangement. The deal is a landmark one since the change of governing law of the bonds from New York law to English law was sufficient for conferring jurisdiction to English courts for sanctioning a scheme of arrangement.

Capital Markets

The capital markets practice of the firm covers the full range of capital markets products and specialises in debt and equity capital markets, derivatives and structured finance, securitisation, corporate trust and agency.

The firm's team is highly experienced, having played an active part in major developments in capital markets related to Cyprus and regularly acts on public offerings including initial, secondary and dual public offerings on regulated or non-regulated markets, both within and outside the EU, as well as private placements, Eurobond issues, reverse takeovers etc.

The team regularly acts for lenders, underwriters, and issuers, issuing legal opinions and advising clients through every step of an equity raising transaction.

The key to our success in this field is our analytical rigour and expertise noting that most of the cases we work on in this area are unprecedented in Cyprus and our clients and overseas counsels therefore rely on our vast experience, know - how and technical expertise to apply untested areas of the law to the case at hand.

Key Practice Areas

Financial Services and Regulation

In a world of increasing regulation on the financial and investment sectors, with companies having to devote more resources to governance, risk and compliance issues, our team can provide practical detailed guidance to clients to help them understand the relevant legal obligations arising from these constantly changing regulatory regimes.

We have an effective working relationship with the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission (the "CySec") being their preferred retained legal adviser, and together with our expertise and our years of experience in this area of Cypriot law, we lead thinking on regulatory developments, helping clients in lobbying on, planning for, and implementing changes as they occur. By maintaining day-to-day contact with the CySec and due to the fact that Stelios Triantafyllides, our managing partner, is often called to assist in drafting legislative amendments in these areas of law, we can advise our clients on the direction of reform and help them structure their business and activities to gain commercial and strategic advantages.

Our team has in depth and technical knowledge of financial services regulation laws including MiFID, MiFID II, laws regulating fund managers and fund formation and we provide immediate and effective responses to client queries in such areas of financial regulation.

We advise asset managers, investment banks, and brokers/agents tackling issues such as fund formation and distribution, and cross border regulatory issues. Our clients include Cyprus Investment Firms belonging to the groups of some of the largest regulated investments banks such as Sberbank and Renaissance Capital, FX trading companies and companies that are leaders in "social investment trading" such as Etoro.

- We advised Macquarie Renaissance Infrastructure Fund and Sumitomo Corporation in connection with their participation in a USD100,000,000 investment round in Russian Towers, a growing telecom tower infrastructure provider in Russia.
- We set up Chinese walls to enable us to act for both buyer, Zoltav Resources Inc and seller Bandbear Limited in the Sale/Acquisition of the Cyprus company Royal Atlantic Energy (Cyprus) Limited, which operated as a subsidiary of Bandbear Limited and which owns a lucrative oil field in Russia. Zoltav paid USD180,000,000, mostly in shares, to the seller and the acquisition was Zoltav's second major oil and gas asset acquisition.
- We advised in connection with the restructuring of Russian wireless-telecoms provider, OAO MegaFon, which resulted in the pay out to its shareholders of USD5.15 billion in dividends. We acted as Cyprus counsel for one of the shareholders, Swedish telecom TeliaSoneraAB and we were responsible for helping the client divest 8.2% indirect stake in OAO MegaFon.

A hand in a black sleeve reaches for a book on a shelf in a library or law firm. The shelves are filled with books, some with red and blue covers. The title 'Key Practice Areas' is overlaid on the image.

Key Practice Areas

The team specialises, non-exhaustively, in interim order applications, Norwich Pharmacal orders and other types of disclosure orders, as well as freezing orders.

The firm's litigation practice is not limited to arguing cases before the District Courts or the Supreme Court of Cyprus, but also extends to claims before all courts and tribunals in Cyprus, including, among others, the Employment Tribunal, the Rent Tribunal, the Tenders Review Authority and the Commission for the Protection of Competition.

Alternative means such as the option of arbitration and mediation are also areas where we excel in the Cyprus legal market.

We have acted in extremely high profile litigation cases such as:

Dmitry Rybolovlev v Elena Rybolovleva (2010)

We represented Mr Dmitry Rybolovlev before the Supreme Court of Cyprus where we succeeded in cancelling the freezing injunctions issued by the first instance court. This decision is frequently cited as authority by the Cyprus Courts.

Ashot Egiazaryan v Denoro Investments Limited and others Action No. 7862/2010

A Cyprus court had frozen USD6 billion worth of Russian businessman - Suleiman Kerimov's Russian assets - including his stakes in potash producer Uralkali and mining group Polyus Gold. The injunction on behalf of Russian member of parliament, Ashot Egiazaryan, also covered holdings in the Moskva Hotel. We represented Mr Suleyman Kerimov's companies before the District Court of Nicosia and successfully opposed applications for injunctions against Mr Suleyman Kerimov personally and his companies.

A person who has made an investment in Cyprus, provided that he meets certain criteria laid down under this scheme, is entitled to Cyprus citizenship.

Our law firm carries out all the necessary procedures in order to assist foreign investors and/or their families to qualify under the scheme.

Responding to increasing demand from our private clients and top managers of our client multinational companies, we have set up a one stop shop to assist our clients. We have established links with reputable property developers in terms of property acquisitions and already have extremely close links with banks in Cyprus. Our firm is connected to a wide network of local businesses and entrepreneurs to enable us to assist clients as effectively as possible when it comes to investing in Cyprus.
